

Abiona Centre (“the Centre”) is an award-winning, accredited Children’s Mental Health Centre that is a multi-service, non-profit, unionized, community agency located in the east end of Toronto. The Centre is committed to nurturing empowerment, independence and growth for young pregnant and parenting women, children and families in a non-judgmental, inclusive environment by providing a residential care and treatment program; supportive transitional housing; on-site high school program, community housing support and referral services; and maternal infant mental health programs and services. We do this by working collaboratively as a multi-disciplinary team with community partners to provide holistic programs and support that respond to mental health, education and transitional needs. The Centre also operates an EarlyON Child and Family Centre and an Early Learning Centre. All the programs and services are open to families, young women and their children living in the broader community.

The Family Support Worker (FSW) provides Child and Youth work practice to residents with specific attention to life-skills training, building the therapeutic milieu and preparation for independent living. The Family Support Worker works collaboratively with other Centre staff and external partners to address the complex needs of clients.

The Family Support Worker may be assigned to the Live In Treatment or Transitional Housing programs, and reports to the Supervisor, Live In Treatment or Transitional Housing programs and makes decision in consultation with his or her supervisor. This position helps to supervise students placements and volunteers in the team
